The first activity of the day was cleaning. All the volunteers divided themselves into different groups and cleaned the surroundings of the temple. They collected the garbage, picked up litter, and swept the premises. The activity not only helped keep the temple premises clean but also instilled a sense of responsibility towards the environment. Near the camp location there is water reservoir where domestic animals go for drinking water. But road to that place was blocked due to excess tree limbs so students cleared that.

Next, the volunteers got busy preparing lunch. They were divided into groups and assigned different tasks such as cutting vegetables, cooking, and cleaning. The lunch menu included pulaw, raita, and papad. The volunteers worked in teams and coordinated well to ensure that the lunch was ready on time.

Later in the afternoon, at 1.00 pm the Principal and HOD's of the PHCET visited the camp to encourage the volunteers. They interacted with the volunteers, appreciated their efforts and shared their own experiences of community service. The volunteers felt motivated and inspired by their words.

Plasma Donation Drive (AY 2020-21)

Plasma therapy, broadly known as 'convalescent plasma therapy', is a procedure to treat coronavirus infection. The plasma contains that antibodies that can help a patient fight the pathogen and recover from the disease. In an initiative to help Covid patients get treated through plasma of a recovered patient, NSS Unit, PHCET Rasayani organized Plasma Donation Drive in the Month of April 2021. All the 50 volunteers actively participated in the event.

As part of the project, we prepared list of registered plasma donors online. People keep searching for donors, which wastes their time during treatment. The list helped them find a donor easily and get the treatment on time. Once a donor who recovered from Covid infection and is willing to donate their plasma registers online, doctors contacted them, check all the criteria and ask them to donate the plasma with the respected blood banks. The donor needed to share their name, blood group and address so that they can be contacted. The entire process of donation was free of cost. The main agenda of the campaign was to help the covid patients to get plasma therapy so that they can be cured faster. In total 46 patients were cured and 26 donors donated plasma during this task.

Community Service Day

One of the key goals of Pillai HOC College of Engineering and Technology has been to expand our community service activities on a massive scale to help us reach out to many underprivileged people in our society and also inculcate a sense of pride among our students and faculty members in serving the less fortunate in society.

We strive to impart a spirit of community care among the staff and students to create a better society for everyone to enjoy. It is our belief that caring for the less fortunate creates a spirit of unity between all those involved and lays the key foundations of positive holistic social development. The Mahatma Education Society has an established reputation for supporting charitable causes and creating lasting improvements in the local areas of all MES institutions. The combined effort and enthusiasm of Pillai staff and students supports formal education for school dropouts, health education programmes and adult literacy support as just some of the many good works carried out each year in the name of MES.

In the year 2021, we are not be able to observe Community Service Day due to the pandemic. However, it will be ensured that help will be provided to the homeless and needy of Mumbai. This year, the winters have been brutal, and thousands of homeless people have experienced severe illness due to the lack of shelter and warm clothing.

Hence, to observe Community Service Day in 2021, we are helping out in a small way by donating old/new blankets, pillows, sweaters, warm clothing, etc. to the needy.

Around 1000 units were received and distributed in Mumbai and Navi Mumbai

If we don't take good nutrition then the poor nutrition can contribute to stress, tiredness and our capacity to do work and overtime, it can contribute to the risk of developing some illnesses and other health issues such as high blood pressure. Therefore Informative charts on nutrition and wellness were put up and explained to all the people.

We have conducted robotics workshop for more than 1000 students from various schools. Many Schools have already participated and still more schools are willing to participate. As soon as the school arrives the students are given introduction about the developing world of robotics. The students find it interesting and are amazed about the new world of robots. The first half of the workshop contains seminar on robotics after which students are taught how to assemble the Robot. They are given the detailed explanation of components to be used for preparing Robots. The components like DC Motor, DPDT Switch and Mechanical chassis are taught thoroughly. Then students are divided in group of five. The group of 5 students works together in the assembling of the Robot. A group of trained Faculty and students of our institution are there to assist and guide the students. Some students are really quick to grab the technique and prepare the robot. This builds curiosity in the other student to build better Robots.

The second half of the session lunch is provided by our institution for the school students. The second half includes fun games, games like Robo-Soccer, Robo War. In Robo-Soccer, like normal soccer a ball is provided and they need to goal. After the conclusion of the tough match, the event is preceded by award ceremony. They are awarded by certificates for their participation and for winning the competition. The faculty and students of the respective school shows their gratitude for the event ROBOGRIA.

Our Institution arranged a Mega Event named "ROBOGRIA CHAMPIONSHIP" for the winner of all the schools on February 2018. The Robo-Soccer game played on School level, winners awarded with certificates and Medals. It was a great successful event.
